About this Qualification Specification

This Qualification Specification contains details of all the units and assessments you will be required to complete to gain these qualifications. It also contains extra information for your tutor or assessor.

In addition to this Specification there is a separate 'Resource Centre' which contains general information to help support the qualification. This pack has been designed for tutors or assessors and can be found on our secure website 'cachezone'.

How the qualifications work

These qualifications are made up of units each representing a small step of learning. This allows the qualifications to be completed at your own pace.

All of the units achieved can be 'banked'. This means that if you want to take another qualification which includes the same units you do not have to take them again.

Each unit has:

- a level - shows how difficult it is
- a credit value - one credit represents about 10 hours' work
- a unit aim – explains what is covered in the unit
- learning outcomes – cover what you need to do (skills) or what you need to understand (knowledge)
- assessment criteria – what you need to show (evidence)

Each learning outcome is linked to a number of assessment criteria. Evidence must be provided for all the assessment criteria to gain the unit.

Learning outcomes The learner will:	Assessment criteria The learner can:	Evidence record e.g. page number & method	Assessor judgement achieved Initial and date
1. Understand why effective communication is important in the work setting.	1.1. Identify the different reasons people communicate.
	1.2. Explain how communication affects relationships in the work setting.

Example shows how outcomes and criteria are laid out in the Unit Assessment Records (UARs) in Section 3

Understanding learning outcomes

There are two main types of learning outcome:

- Skills that can be performed
- Knowledge that can be learnt.

Sometimes they can cover a combination of the two.

Competence / Skills based learning outcomes:

- generally begin with 'Be able to' and the assessment criteria usually show that the evidence must be observable
- are about being able to perform a variety of different tasks as part of your work role within a real work environment.

Knowledge based learning outcomes:

- generally begin with 'Know', 'Understand' or 'Know how to' and the assessment criteria will reflect that evidence can be recorded in ways other than observation, although observation remains a valid method (however, some learning outcomes could be purely knowledge based and do not need to be in the context of a work role).

Making use of the CACHE websites

The CACHE websites are maintained on a regular basis and this is where the most up to date documents can be found. We strongly advise that these should be used as a resource on an on-going basis to ensure you always have the most current information.

All our qualification documents are version controlled, allowing you to check for updates or revisions.

The Public Website

Our public website address is: www.cache.org.uk and contains information that is available to everybody. It contains information about all our qualifications, including:

- Key Facts
- Qualification Specifications

There are also some other key documents that can be referred to when required. For example:

- Complaints Procedure
- Appeals Process
- Equality and Diversity Statement – our approach to non-discrimination
- CACHE Statement of Values – our values when working with children or young people

It also contains regular news updates and case studies and links to websites from other organisations that might be of interest.

The Centre Secure Website

More specific information to support Centre delivery (including the Resource Centre) can be found on our secure website 'cachezone'. This site is for Centres only.

Login is via the 'cachezone page' on our public website using the details provided by the Centre administrator.

Section 3: Units

This section includes CACHE assessment tasks for tutors' convenience. They are not mandatory.

Unit layout

For each unit the following material has been provided:

Unit title	Provides a clear, concise explanation of the content of the unit.
Unit number	The unique number assigned by the owner of the unit (e.g. Edexcel, CACHE etc.).
Unit reference	The unique reference number given to each unit at qualification approval by Ofqual.
Unit level	Denotes the level of the unit within the QCF framework.
Unit credit value	The value that has been given to the unit based on the expected learning time for an average learner. 1 credit = 10 learning hours.
Unit aim	Provides a brief outline of the unit content.
Learning outcome	A statement of what a learner will know, understand or be able to do, as a result of a process of learning.
Assessment criteria	A description of the requirements a learner must achieve to demonstrate that a learning outcome has been met.
Additional information*	This box identifies the assessment strategy relevant to the unit. When required, this will include specific guidance relating to the assessment of the unit and information to support the learner to achieve.
Unit assessment guidance*	Any additional guidance provided to support the assessment of the unit.
Unit guided learning hours	The average number of hours of supervised or directed study time or assessment required to achieve a qualification or unit of a qualification.
Assessment task (set by CACHE)*	A scenario or aspect of the work role that will support the learner in producing the evidence requirements for knowledge only learning outcomes.

* Additional information, Unit assessment guidance and Assessment tasks may not be provided for all units.

NB: Words highlighted in bold in the learning outcomes, assessment criteria and assessment tasks are linked to the additional guidance section where more information on them can be found.

Assessment task – PWCS 07 Introductory awareness of the importance of healthy eating and drinking for adults

This assessment has been designed to meet all assessment criteria for learning outcomes 1 and 2.

Introduction

The key to a healthy diet is getting the balance right. This means eating and drinking a wide variety of food and fluid in the right proportions from all the main food groups. To support adults to eat and drink healthily you will need to have a good knowledge of what a healthy balanced diet is.

Produce a healthy eating plan which shows that you can:

Task 1

- outline what is meant by a balanced diet
- give examples of the effects on health if a diet is not balanced
- give examples of ways that food can contribute to helping an individual to stay healthy
- outline ways to inform individuals to eat a balanced diet.

Task 2

- state the recommended daily fluid intake to stay healthy
- outline how drinking enough can help to stay healthy
- identify the effects to health of not drinking enough
- give examples of signs of not drinking enough
- outline ways to encourage individuals to drink enough to stay healthy.

Introduction

Read the following case study:

Grace is 82 years old. Grace lives alone as her husband died two years ago. Grace has lived an active life but has recently suffered a stroke. She has made good progress and is hoping to return home after a time in hospital. Grace's daughter lives close by so she will help her by preparing meals and doing jobs around the house.

Before Grace is discharged from hospital, a specialist nurse assesses how well she will manage at home. She asks questions about Grace's physical, intellectual, emotional and social development.

Task 1

- Draw a pathway to represent Grace's life. Starting from babyhood, show the five main stages that she has experienced during her lifetime.
- Produce a chart like the one below and outline what is meant by each area of development.

Area of development	What is meant by each area of development?
Physical Intellectual Emotional
Social

Task 2

- Produce written work which gives information on the factors and circumstances which may have affected Grace's development during her lifetime. Include the following:
 - three factors which may have affected Grace's physical growth and development
 - three circumstances or life events which may have affected Grace's emotional and social well-being
 - a brief description of the effects of ageing that Grace may have experienced in the later stages of her life.

'Factors and circumstances' may include positive (good) or negative (bad) effects on Grace's physical growth and development, and social and emotional well-being.

Guidance for developing assessment arrangements for the unit:

Guidance for developing unit assessment arrangements – provided with the QCF unit

Disability may include:

- medical conditions, labels and definitions
- something that is defined by society and individuals
- the fact that disability means different things to different people
- the fact that disability is difficult to define and any definition needs careful consideration
- the fact that disability is about what you can or cannot do
- the fact that disability can be physical, mental or sensory
- the fact that disability has social and individual elements
- the fact that disability is also about the attitudes and barriers faced by people who are impaired

Conditions could include:

- Physical conditions, for example as the result of an accident, or chronic conditions such as arthritis, asthma and heart disease
- Cognitive conditions, for example Alzheimer's disease
- Sensory conditions, for example visual impairment
- Emotional conditions, for example phobias, depression and anxiety
- Developmental conditions, for example cerebral palsy and Down's syndrome
- Progressive conditions, for example cancer, HIV and multiple sclerosis

Impairment may include:

- mental aspects
- physical aspects
- sensory aspect

Key legislation may include:

- The Disability Discrimination Act 2005
- The Equality Act 2010
- The Human Rights Act 1998
- The Mental Capacity Act 2005

Guidance for developing assessment arrangements for the unit:

Rights may include the right not to be discriminated against or harassed in accessing:

- everyday services
- health and social care services
- education
- employment

Social and financial issues may include:

- the fact that historically disabled people may not have been able to work in factories or heavy industry
- emphasis on the additional costs involved in supporting disabled people
- the fact that support services are impairment based/specific so disabled people are competing for resources
- the fact that the benefits system is not adequately structured

Attitudes may include:

- opinions about early/late abortion of impaired foetuses
- insensitivity by staring at people who look different
- insensitivity by staring at people who behave differently
- the belief that a disabled person cannot live a fulfilled life
- beliefs that disabled people cannot make decisions

Physical barriers are derived from poor attitudes and may include:

- expectations that everyone will be able to use stairs
- lack of lifts because of poor planning
- lack of accessible facilities because of poor planning
- inaccessible public transport because of poor planning
- inaccessible services because of lack of communication
- inaccessible car parking

Guidance for developing assessment arrangements for the unit:Institutional barriers may include:

- opinions about whether disabled people should live in residential homes/independently
- disregard or ignorance of the social model of disability
- preference for the delivery of care based on the medical model of disability
- decisions about access to assessment and treatment based on risk or budgetary concerns
- inter-professional differences associated with 'health' and 'social' care

Social model of disability:

- provides a differentiation between the terms 'disability' and 'impairment'
- identifies disability as something that is created by the barriers that commonly exist within a society
- identifies a disabled person is anyone who faces barriers and discrimination because of impairment
- has been developed by disabled people for disabled people and addresses issues raised by them
- focuses on disability and not impairment

The difference between the medical model and the social model may include:

- The medical model refers to the medical diagnosis of a person's impairment or condition and determines what people can and cannot do (e.g. sight loss, hearing loss, epilepsy). It also details what the person will need in their lives in order to function adequately with this particular condition. The problem therefore is seen as being with the individual themselves.
- The social model focuses on the societal and environmental barriers, constructed by society as a whole, which prevent disabled people from taking an equal part. This means that people with impairments are disabled by the environment and society.

Guidance for developing assessment arrangements for the unit:

Reasons may include:

- Because it focuses on the person rather than the impairment
- People who have impairment may not necessarily be disabled; however, society may create situations by where the person becomes disabled. This can include physical barriers and negative attitudes
- It ensures the person is always central

Language used should:

- take into account the difficulties experienced by disabled people
- focus upon the disability rather than the person's impairment
- be positive
- be non-discriminatory
- be person-centred

Assessment task – CT 260 Introduction to disability awareness

This assessment has been designed to meet all assessment criteria for learning outcomes 1, 2, 3 and 4.

Introduction

The learning from this unit will provide knowledge of the terms 'disability' and 'impairment', key legislation and the attitudes and barriers faced by people who have a disability and an understanding of the social and medical models of disability and how these may be implemented.

To show your knowledge and understanding:

Task 1

- identify what disability means
- outline conditions which cause disability
- identify what impairment means

Task 2

- list current disability related legislation
- outline the rights of disabled people in line with current disability related legislation

Task 3

- outline the types of difficulties faced by disabled people including:
 - social and financial issues
 - negative attitudes
 - physical barriers
 - institutional barriers

Task 4

- identify what is meant by the 'social model' of disability
- explain key differences between the 'medical model' of disability and the 'social model' of disability
- outline the reasons why the social model focuses on 'disability' and not 'impairment'
- outline the type of 'language' used when applying the social model
- explain how the social model of disability can be used in practice.

This assessment has been designed to meet all assessment criteria for learning outcomes 1 and 2

Introduction

The key to a healthy diet is getting the balance right. This means eating a wide variety of foods in the right proportions from all the main food groups. To encourage children and young people to eat healthily you will need to have a good knowledge of this process.

Produce a healthy eating programme which shows that you can:

Task

- identify healthy eating principles for children and young people
- identify factors that influence food choice
- outline a range of activities that encourage children and young people to eat healthily.

Assessment task – CFC 18 Investigating a vocational area

Introduction

In this unit you will have the opportunity to investigate vocational areas of interest to you within the health, social care and children and young people's settings. You will be able to find out about job roles you are interested in for the chosen employment area. You will develop investigative skills throughout the unit so that you will have had experience of researching job roles and identifying the requirements of the role which will help you when you apply for a higher level qualification, further training or work. You will also have reviewed your personal qualities, skills, achievements and relevant experience in order to help you produce a personal plan suitable for the vocational area of interest to you.

Prepare information which will help you when you apply for a higher level qualification, further training or work for a vocational area within health, social care and children and young people's settings.

Task 1 links to learning outcome 1, assessment criteria 1.1

Select a vocational area within Health, Social Care and Children and Young People's settings which interests you. Produce information which:

- explains your own reasons for interest in the specific vocational area.

Task 2 links to learning outcome 1, assessment criteria 1.2, 1.3, 1.4 and 1.5

Produce an information booklet which provides more detailed information about the job roles within your chosen vocational area. You must include:

- the sources of information which you have used to find out about the vocational area
- a description of three job roles associated with the vocational area
- a description of the skills, knowledge and personal qualities which are required for each of the three job roles you have already described
- an explanation of how a candidate might show that they meet the job specification for one of the job roles identified.

Task 3 links to learning outcome 2, assessment criteria 2.1, 2.2 and 2.3

Produce a plan on ways that you can develop your own skills for the chosen job role. The plan must include:

- an assessment of your own skills, knowledge and personal qualities relevant for the chosen role
- an assessment of areas for your own development
- an action plan for developing your own skills and knowledge for the chosen job role.

Learning outcomes The learner will:	Assessment criteria The learner can:	Evidence record e.g. page number & method	Assessor judgement achieved Initial and date
	2.3. Match own skills, qualities and abilities to the requirements of preferred learning progression destination or career choice.
3. Understand how a person's learning style influences career and education choices.	3.1. Describe the characteristics of own learning style and how their career/education choices may be influenced by their learning style.
4. Be able to set personal goals and objectives.	4.1. Identify a range of personal goals, taking into consideration own skills, qualities, abilities and available opportunities.
	4.2. Describe why the goals are relevant to own current situation and to available opportunities.
5. Be able to make action plans to achieve personal goals.	5.1. Produce an action plan which: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • identifies and records personal goals which are SMART (Specific, Measurable, Achievable, Realistic, Timed) • incorporates a checklist of actions to be taken towards personal goals • timetables the actions to be undertaken.

Introduction

This unit is about your self development and how it influences your future choices. Producing information about your own strengths and achievements and planning for further improvements will help you to prepare for your future education and/or role in health, social care and children and young people's setting.

In the workplace you will be required to contribute to regular supervision sessions with your line manager. In order to make this meaningful produce a resource folder about "Self Development" divided into the following sections:

- Section 1: Achievements and Interests
- Section 2: Strengths and areas for further development
- Section 3: Learning Styles
- Section 4: Personal Goals and Objectives
- Section 5: Action Plan

The resource folder should include evidence that you can:

Task 1 links to learning outcome 1, assessment criteria 1.1 and 1.2

Section 1: Achievements and Interests

- describe two personal achievements and ways that you achieved each one
- describe two personal interests and ways that you pursue each one
- describe how each achievement and interest has contributed to your personal development and situation

Task 2 links to learning outcome 2, assessment criteria 2.1, 2.2 and 2.3

Section 2: Strengths and areas for further development

Strengths

- describe your strengths in relation to own skills, qualities and abilities
- assess how important your skills, qualities and abilities are for your future life, work and training

Areas for Development

- identify own areas for improvement
- explain why the areas identified need to be improved
- explain how the areas identified can be improved

Using skills and abilities:

- explain ways that your qualities and abilities can transfer to future learning, training or career choice

Task 3 links to learning outcome 3, assessment criteria 3.1

Section 3: Learning Styles

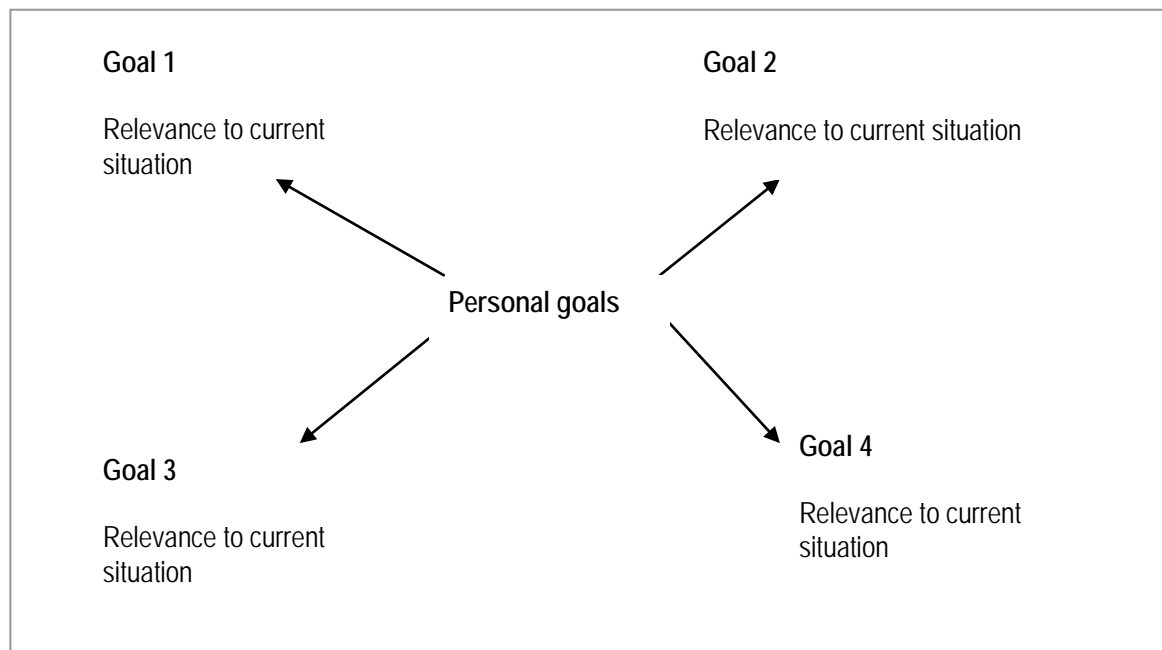

- describe the characteristics of your own learning style
- explain how your education or career choices may be influenced by your learning style.

Task 4 links to learning outcome 4, assessment criteria 4.1 and 4.2

Section 4: Personal Goals and Objectives

Produce a diagram like the one below on A4 paper. On the diagram you must include:

- personal goals which take into account your skills, qualities, abilities and available opportunities
- a description of why each of the goals identified are relevant to your own current situation.

Task 5 links to learning outcome 5, assessment criteria 5.1

Section 5: Action Plan

Produce a chart like the one below. Use the chart to write your action plan which will enable you to achieve your personal goals identified in task 4. You must include actions which are:

- Specific – clearly stating each goal and the actions to be taken towards each goal
- Measurable – a goal which you can identify the progress you have made
- Achievable – a goal which is realistic for your own situation
- Timed – with dates identified of when the actions towards each goal will be taken and a date when the goal will be achieved.

My personal goals	Actions towards my personal goals	Timescale for my actions	Review of progress toward my personal goals	When I expect to achieve my goal

Draw your chart on an A4 sheet which is landscape to enable you to fit in each piece of information.

HSC CYP 1: Introductory awareness of bereavement in health, social care and children's and young people's settings

Unit reference R/503/3149 Level 2

Credit value 3 GLH 25

Unit aim The aim of this unit is to develop the learner's awareness and knowledge of bereavement and to raise the learner's awareness of the possible effects that culture, religion, personal beliefs and stages of development might have on bereavement and the process of grieving. The strategies to help adjust to bereavement in health, social care and children's and young people's settings will also be explored.

Assessment task – HSC CYP 1 Introductory awareness of bereavement in health, social care and children's and young people's settings

Introduction

There are many forms of bereavement, which impact on us at some stage in our lives. Many of us will not experience bereavement or loss until later in life and may have little opportunity to learn about loss and about how people are affected by grief. For this task you will have the opportunity to show your understanding of bereavement and grief and the strategies to support individuals within health, social care and children's and young people's settings. To show your understanding of this important area, present information that shows that you can:

You may wish to present the information as a resource file.

Assessment task – HSC CYP 2 Understanding risk within health, social care and children's and young people's settings

Introduction

Everyday we are put in situations where we have to consider risk. It is difficult to avoid, from the moment you leave the house and cross the road you check the traffic to ensure that is safe. This is an example of risk assessment, which we carry out all the time without necessarily realising it. In the workplace, your employer has to complete written risk assessments on the environment, and the tasks that staff are required to do. This assessment task will require you to consider looking at situations and working out what risk is involved, if it is an acceptable or desirable risk or not and how the risk will be managed.

To show your awareness of this critical area, provide information that shows that you understand risk.

You may wish to present this information as a resource file

Task 1 links to learning outcome 1, assessment criteria 1.1 and 1.2

- describe environmental situations that could pose risk to self and others
- identify risks arising from the physical and/or emotional state of service users and carers

Task 2 links to learning outcome 2, assessment criteria 2.1, 2.2, 2.3 and 2.4

- describe the positive and negative aspects of risk
- describe the importance of assessing and managing risk
- outline ways of assessing risk in any given situation
- explain ways in which risk could be managed

Task 3 links to learning outcome 3, assessment criteria 3.1, 3.2 and 3.3

- give examples of instances where risk taking is essential
- identify the benefits of the risk taking to individuals of the examples identified
- outline safety measures that will minimise the risks identified without reducing the benefits of these risks.

Unit 11: Job opportunities in health and social care

Unit reference D/501/7228 Unit level 1

Credit value 4 GLH 30

Unit aim The principal aim of this unit is for learners to develop a plan for starting work in health and social care by being given the opportunity to explore job opportunities across the health and social care sector. The learner will explore conditions of employment and the qualifications and skills required for different jobs in the sector. The learner will have the opportunity to set realistic short- and medium-term goals for their career pathway in health and social care.

Assessment task – Unit 11 Job opportunities in health and social care

Scenario

You are working in a recruitment agency that specialises in health and social care. Your role is varied as you deal with a range of organisations as well as individuals seeking employment. One of your responsibilities is to provide these individuals with information that will help them to gain employment in an area of their choice. As part of your role, you provide information to potential employees on the terms and conditions of employment for jobs in health and social care. The other aspect of your role is to help potential employees prepare for their job role in health and social care.

You have been asked to produce a resource folder that will help support a potential employee looking to work in a health and social care role. This resource folder must show that you can:

Task 1 links to learning outcome 1, assessment criteria 1.1 and 1.2

Section 1 of your resource folder will involve investigating the different job roles.

- identify jobs in different sectors of health and social care
- describe a job role in a health and social care setting/department

Task 2 links to learning outcome 2, assessment criteria 2.1

Section 2 of your resource folder will show your understanding of the terms and conditions of employment.

- describe the terms and conditions of employment for jobs in health and social care

Task 3 links to learning outcome 3, assessment criteria 3.1

Section 3 of your resource folder will demonstrate your knowledge about the qualifications and skills required

- present information about qualifications and skills required for selected jobs in health and social care

Task 4 links to learning outcome 4, assessment criteria 4.1

Section 4

- produce a plan to start work within health and social care.

Assessment task – SHC 24 Introduction to duty of care in health, social care or children's and young people's settings

Introduction

When working in health, social care or children's and young people's settings it is important that you understand the concept of 'duty of care' and how it is put into practice. You also need to know how your duty of care contributes to the safeguarding or protection of individuals.

You need to be showing an awareness of the potential dilemmas that may arise between the duty of care and an individual's rights and where you can access support to manage these potential dilemmas.

Individuals in these environments are highly vulnerable people and the setting should have clear procedures to be used when complaints are made.

Select a role within health, social care or children's and young people's settings which you are interested in working in and prepare a resource folder about 'Duty of Care'. You will need to put evidence into the folder that shows that you can:

Task 1 links to learning outcome 1, assessment criteria 1.1 and 1.2

Section 1: Implications

- define the term 'Duty of care'
- describe how the duty of care affects chosen work role

Task 2 links to learning outcome 2, assessment criteria 2.1 and 2.2

Section 2: Dilemmas

- describe dilemmas that may arise between the duty of care and individual's rights
- explain where to get additional support and advice about how to resolve such dilemmas.

Task 3 links to learning outcome 3, assessment criteria 3.1 and 3.2

- describe how to respond to complaints
- identify the main points of the agreed procedures for handling complaints.

Section 4: Assessment and quality assurance information for tutors and assessors

Assessment guidance

A recommended range of assessment methods has been identified for the units in this qualification. This gives the opportunity for different learning styles and individual needs of learners to be taken into account.

Recommended range of assessment methods for this qualification

One of the following assessment methods can be chosen to produce evidence.

For Knowledge only learning outcomes:

- Written and pictorial information
- Scenario or case study
- Task set by CACHE
- Oral questions and answers
- Assessment method devised by Centre and approved by CACHE

If you are proposing to use an assessment method that is not included within the recommended list you should contact your Customer Quality Advisor with full details of your proposed method. It will need formal approval from us before it can be used.

A key to the recommended assessment methods is included in “How to ... A Guide to Assessing CACHE QCF Qualifications” which forms part of the Resource Centre on cachezone.

Assessment strategies and principles relevant to this qualification

The units we offer have been developed in line with the specific assessment strategies or principles of different Sector Skills Councils (SSCs) or by us where there is no SSC lead.

The key requirements of the assessment strategies or principles that relate to units in this qualification are summarised below. More detailed strategies or principles can be found in the “How to ... A Guide to Understanding the Requirements of Assessors and Internal Quality Assurers for CACHE QCF Qualifications”.

The Centre needs to ensure that individuals undertaking assessor or quality assurer roles within your Centre conform to the SSC assessment requirements for the unit they are assessing or quality assuring.

Skills for Care and Development Assessment Principles

Knowledge learning outcomes

- Assessors will need to be both occupationally knowledgeable and qualified to make assessment decisions
- Internal Quality Assurers will need to be both occupationally knowledgeable and qualified to make quality assurance decisions

Competence / Skills learning outcomes

- Assessors will need to be both occupationally competent and qualified to make assessment decisions
- Internal Quality Assurers will need to be both occupationally knowledgeable and qualified to make quality assurance decisions

CACHE Assessment Strategy

Knowledge learning outcomes

- Assessors will need to be both occupationally knowledgeable and qualified to make assessment decisions
- Internal Quality Assurers need to be both occupationally knowledgeable and qualified to make quality assurance decisions

Competence / Skills learning outcomes

- Assessors will need to be both occupationally competent and qualified to make assessment decisions
- Internal Quality Assurers will need to be both occupationally knowledgeable and qualified to make quality assurance decisions
